Seek Relief!

The great proportion of women who suffer never make a serious effort to benefit themselves. The most of them go on paying no attention to their little menstrual disorders, believing they will eventually wear off. They grow worse and worse every day. At the period of menstruation a woman is peculiarly susceptible to cold and other external influences and it is also the most favorable time for the development of hidden disease germs which may be lurking in the system. Any physician knows that disordered menstruation, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea are blighting lives in almost every home. No woman should neglect herself a moment after she sees indications of female diseases. Almost instant relief can be secured by the use of

WINE OF CARDUI

It will relieve you right in your own home. Will you accept the testimony of Mrs. Belgier and thousands of other women and really seek relief today? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

100 Chicago Street, Fort Wayne, Ind., March 27, 1900.
Your Wine of Cardui has done a world of good for me. I have used five bottles of the Wine and one package of Thordford's Black-Draught. And since I have started to use it I will not be without it in the house. It helped my sister in Toledo, who did not menstruate as she ought. She was sixteen years of age and nothing else helped her. I was in a very bad state myself before I used your medicine, but I found relief in three days. And now I feel like a new woman and do all my housework and washing, which I could not do before I took Wine of Cardui. I would be very glad to write any poor woman and tell her how I suffered before I used Wine of Cardui.

SUNDAY, MARCH 31, 1931.
THE OBJECT OF THE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The business people of Nevada have environment, to which it seems impossible for them to accommodate themselves. The new environment seems to be too much of a change for their present financial life. The change is in the late Act of the legislature made to apply to insurance within the State.

The people have been depending upon a foreign insurance corporations for a thousand years in the insurance branch of financial economy. The new law has taken away from them the provisions and as a result of the action taken has withdrawn from the insurance field, which it was forced to do, or to admit the injustice it has been practicing upon the people. The difficulty there is in the law which the insurance trust will not overlook it not in justice to the trust, but in the justice there is in its provisions to the insured.

The trouble consists in making the trust pay in case of total loss by fire the full amount for which the property destroyed was insured, and upon which a premium had been paid. The intent of the law is to secure as near as may be to the unfortunate property owner in the event of a complete loss the full amount he has paid insurance upon, thus removing one of the means through which unfortunates have been beaten out of a portion of the money paid, as a premium upon the insurance of their property.

When a full premium is paid and retained by the insurer company and only a portion of the money is paid for which the property was insured upon the theory that the property can be replaced by the company for less than the amount of money covered by the premium is in many cases made rank injustice. The injustice does not appear on the face of the policy, that contains a provision authorizing the insurer company to replace the property in case of a total loss.

The injustice is outside of the policy when a given sum is offered, or a new structure is made an alternative, which alternative places the insured in the hands of the insurer to receive such a structure as the trust sees proper to provide for the sum of money it has offered to pay for the property destroyed.

The law is intended to abolish a system of bulldozing practiced by the insurance trust through its paid agents upon those who are so unfortunate as to lose their property by fire. Another of the rights reserved in policies issued by the insurance trust is to appraise the property destroyed and then offer the sum of the appraisal to the unfortunate property owner, which is a knife that always cuts the property owner, when cutting is made a part of the game, as the trust never pays more than the sum of the policy, which makes the right to appraise a weapon in the hands of the trust that never cuts the hands that hold it.

When an appraisal is made, if the appraised value is less than the sum of the policy, it is tendered to the policy holder with the alternative, take it or refuse it, as it is all the trust will pay, which places the policy holder in a position to bring a law-suit or take the sum offered. The appraisal makes a case which the trust brings into court with its money and trust power to sustain it against a policy holder whose all has in all probability been destroyed by fire.

The annoyance of expert adjusters in the employ of the insurance trust are brought against people who have no experience in the insurance business, and a law-suit, or the sum the trust is willing to pay, is a choice given to the policy holder for the premium he has paid. The law was passed to protect the people against insurance caseworkers who devour before and after a fire by feeding upon the unfortunate policy holder.

It is a duty of an insurance agent to know about values of property he is insuring, and if he is careful there is no need for provisions of the character mentioned in an insurance policy, but the insurer trust profits by these provisions, and they are provided for its benefit to help swell profits made known through dividends.

The JOURNAL is informed that a petition addressed to the Governor is being circulated to receive signatures requesting a call for an extra session of the legislature. The Governor said to the writer on the subject of a call for an extra session, that he would willingly make the call provided he was assured the law would be repealed; but to make a call without such assurance would be useless. He estimated the cost of the session at not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, and under these circumstances he felt called on, for the protection of the people, to ascertain to a certainty that a repeal of the law would be made before making a call.

The Governor takes a correct and sensible view of the situation as it is. The writer, like the Governor, has very little confidence in the fellows who made up the last legislature in Nevada when there is included a proposition of forcing their legislative will. They went through without a boss, and the writer is of the opinion they will continue to tread American soil to that lay-out to the end of the present legislative term. The JOURNAL will make another talk on insurance in its next issue.

Whacked Up Thirty Cents.
In the report of the receipts and disbursements on the Star lecture course the JOURNAL stated that Professors Bray and Brandon whacked up thirty dollars. The omission of a decimal point made the trouble. It should have read thirty cents. The latter is the amount cleared by the projectors of the lecture.

State Teachers' Institute.
Nearly all the Reno teachers will attend the State Institute in Carson this week. The program promises an interesting session. Prof. Cobberly of Stanford University will attend the meeting and lend his assistance.

The Chinese Cook.
Mrs. White determined in the first flush of her newly acquired dignity that she was not going to be "squeezed" by the Chinese cook and the storekeeper, as it was quite plain every one else was. Accordingly she purchased scales and weights and announced her intention of personally weighing everything. For some days this method proved very satisfactory, but she was sometimes a little puzzled on finding that the provisions occasionally weighed more than was charged for.

One day the mystery was solved. She was carefully weighing a chicken. In China not only is everything, living and dead, sold by weight, but fowls are always supplied alive. The chicken during the weighing operation suddenly entered a vigorous objection and began to flap and struggle with all its might, and during these flappings and struggles something weighty fell with a thud to the floor, evidently from somewhere about the chicken. This turned out to be a large piece of lead which had been cunningly fastened under one of the wings. Further investigation led to the discovery of a similar piece underneath the other wing. The overweight of the past few days was now accounted for.—Chambers' Journal.

Christening the Children.
An English parson of a church in Berbice, British Guiana, writes entertainingly of his pastoral duties. In the matter of christening the choice of name is left to the taste or fancy of the parents. This leads to strange combinations. He copies from his register "Nannie Bellona," "Frank Locust" and "Whisky Emmanuel." Of earlier times he tells the following:
One black man brought his child, and when the minister asked its name he said, "Seriatim ad Valorem."
On another occasion the parson asked, "What is the name of the child?" The father said, "Ax, parson." The minister looked inquiringly at the man and said:
"But I don't understand you."
"Well, parson," said the man, "my mind give me to go troo de New Testament. I have had four boys. The first was named Matthew, the second Mark, the third Luke and the fourth John. Now, this, the fifth one, is to be Ax [Acts], parson."

English Peers Can't Vote.
Disfranchisement is one of the peculiar disabilities under which a peer of the realm suffers. Lord Salisbury once attempted to secure a vote for Hertford and Middlesex, but the revising barrister at Hatfield refused the claim on the ground that time had given the disability the character of law and that peers by the law of parliament necessary for the dignity and freedom of the two houses were not permitted to vote for members of the house of commons. Lord Salisbury took the case to the appeal court, but as he could quote "neither precedent nor authority" he was obliged to go back to Hatfield without his vote.—London Chronicle.

Beginning Early.
"Shall I have to get married when I grow up?" asked little Flossie one day of her mother.
"Just as you please, dear," answered her mother, with a smile. "Most women do, however."
"Yes; I suppose so," continued the little girl musingly. "and I think I'd better start and look out for a husband now. They say that Aunt Jane has been at it for 20 years and hasn't caught one yet."—Exchange.

Proof to Her.
"I am quite certain that poor man has seen better times," said Mrs. Gazzam after giving breakfast to a tramp.
"No doubt," added Mr. Gazzam dryly. "They all have."
"But this poor fellow didn't ask me for broken victuals. He said it grieved him to be obliged to apply for a collation."—Detroit Free Press.

The levees on both sides of the Mississippi are of sufficient extent that if they were built in a single straight line they would be about 1,300 miles long or long enough to stretch the greater part of the distance between New Orleans and New York.

Result of the Inquest.

An autopsy was held on the remains of Joaquin Valenzuela yesterday morning and the cause of the bullet defined.

Later Coroner Peers held an inquest over the remains and found that the deceased came to his death by a pistol bullet fired by Elmo Soso.

The defendant was given a hearing in Justice Lion's court and committed on the charge of murder.

Harry Brown Registered.

Chief of Police Brown has lately been very diligent registering the women of the tenderloin in compliance with Pike's recently discovered ordinance. He has fulfilled his duty to the letter but, by a little oversight, he made himself the subject and object of jokes and jibes on the part of the balance of the constabulary. Harry made out the certificates all right, with the exception of signing his name on the wrong line. The chief of police stands on the records as registered to do business at half a dozen different addresses on First street.

Gathering of Assessors.

Tomorrow the assessors of the various counties of Nevada will meet in Carson in annual convention. Assessor W. J. Hopper of Eureka county and George Watt of Lander county arrived yesterday morning and several others came in last night. Washoe county will be represented by Deputy William Beard and George Holcomb, chairman of the board of commissioners. Assessor Evans is too ill to attend.

A Polic/ Written.

Evidently all the fir insurance companies have not withdrawn from Nevada. On the 29th inst., the insurance on the Reno Reduction works expired.
H. H. Beck wrote to George D. Burton, president of the E. M. & R. Co., ap-prising him of this condition of affairs. A reply was received yesterday.
Mr. Burton succeeded in having this property insured by a Boston company.

Three Attractions.

The next aggregation that will hold the boards in McKissick's opera house will be the "Evil Eye" company. The Comstock mine will follow them and afterwards will be a production of the "Milkado" by Reno amateurs.

The theatre has been closed for some time and this array of attractions will be appreciated by Reno theatre goers.

A Civil Suit.

Not many months ago Charles Ram-selli was found guilty of assaulting a man named Etchert. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000. The amount was forthcoming. Etchert has filed papers beginning a civil suit against Ramselli. He claims damages in the sum of $9,000 for loss of the use of his hand and the suffering he endured on account of his injury.

A Heavy Sentence.

Charles Burnham, who was convicted Friday of having perjured a watch of Harry Sellers, was yesterday sentenced to six months imprisonment by Justice Linn. Burnham is only recently out of the penitentiary, having been previously convicted on a similar charge.

fice from the Golden Eagle hotel to pensary in the Sunderland building portion of the State.

Try Again

Our good friends, the Gazette people, are having a dance of a time over Pike's ante-mortem interview with the man who was shot the other night.

They first had it that he gave a post-mortem interview and last night the prefix meaning "after" received a substitution in the form of one meaning "against." According to the JOUR-NAL's red covered bookbionary, "ante-mortem" is the word that meets the requirements. There is no charge for this information.

Will Play Football.

Although the matter lies considerably in the future, the Reno Wheelmen have already begun to consider the matter of training a football eleven to oppose the University team.

There is good material in the club.
The only difficulty is in finding time for practice, as nearly all the available timber in the club is employed steadily and the boys can find little time for practice.

His Life Threatened.

Constable Leeper has lately received threats of bodily injury, death and other things. Unless the JOURNAL miners his guess, Charley will remain on deck and fulfill the duties of his office without fear of the cowardly characters who attempt to intimidate him by unsigned letters and covert threats from other sources.

The Varsity Won.

A game of baseball was played on the University campus yesterday afternoon by the Varsity team and a picked nine from the Reno Wheelmen. It was a hotly contested game, but the greater amount of practice work done by the college boys caused the result to be 10 to 6 in favor of the boys on the hill.

Their First Concert.

Last evening the Mountain Echo band gave a concert from the balcony of the Reno Wheelmen's club house.
This was the first appearance of the new band in the open air. Although the air was chilly, a number of people stood on the sidewalk and enjoyed the concert.
